

Sponsor ASGA's Inaugural Solar Grazing Certification Program for Solar Industry Professionals!

What to Expect When You're Expecting Sheep

The American Solar Grazing Association's new Solar Industry Professionals Certification program is a one-day workshop designed for site operations and management teams, developers, asset managers, sustainability teams, and solar company employees. An in-depth orientation will provide a clear picture of day-to-day life with sheep on site. Workshops will take place on a grazed solar site following classroom instruction. Participants will receive a Level 1 Basic Solar Grazing Management certification from the American Solar Grazing Association (ASGA).
