

Solar Grazing Certification Training

Become an ASGA Certified Solar Grazier

ASGA developed the world's first Solar Grazing Certification to help teach the unique set of skills necessary to succeed at solar grazing. At the in-person ASGA certified solar grazing training, you will learn key topics and best practices fundamental to using sheep to manage vegetation on solar energy sites.

ASGA members who take a certified course will earn a digital badge to use in marketing your services and be able to list your new status on the solar grazing map. Becoming ASGA certified will help you stand out to prospective solar company clients.
